As a result of the growing responsibilities being placed upon driver licensing personnel, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (AAMVA) membership determined it was necessary to create programs that encouraged driver licensing examiners to increase their knowledge and competence. In 1980, AAMVA and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) began development of an examiner certification program. The Certified Driver Examiner (CDE) program was finalized and approved in 1982.

The Certified Commercial Examiner (CCE) component was created in 1997 to assist jurisdictions with training their Commercial Driver License (CDL) examiners. The third component of the program, the Certified Motorcycle Examiner (CME), was developed in cooperation with the Motorcycle Safety Foundation (MSF). The Certified Commercial Third Party Tester (CTT) was established to upgrade the level of training and to provide an avenue for third-party testers to meet the same level of requirements as jurisdictional examiner personnel.

The testing and licensing of drivers requires a high quality of excellence and uniformity amongst driver license examiners. The International Driver Examiner Certification (IDEC) CDE Program assists in ensuring that examiners have met the minimum knowledge and skills training requirements for conducting licensing tests. Quality training and education contributes to the safety of individual drivers on the nation’s highways. The IDEC training materials were developed to assist jurisdictions in meeting these goals.

The Certification Program is based on the premise that for driver licensing examiners to be recognized as professionals, there must be an international program to assure the public, the institutions served and the government of the competence and quality of the practitioners in the field.

The specific objectives of the Program are to:

1. improve the efficiency and effectiveness of driver examining personnel,
2. upgrade the professionalism of driver examiners, and
3. establish standards for driver examiner training that will assist individual Jurisdictions in the delivery of their training programs.

The IDEC Board administers the program for AAMVA. The Board consists of a chairperson, a vice chairperson, one member from each AAMVA region, and a Canadian jurisdiction representative. AAMVA serves as program secretariat and provides staff assistance to the Board.
Purposes of the Program:

- Give recognition to driver licensing examiners who have demonstrated adherence to the principles and recommended practices of driver examining.
- Encourage and assist driver examiners in maintaining and increasing their knowledge and competence through continuing education and professional development opportunities.
- Promote highway safety and protect the public interest by accrediting driver licensing examiner training programs and certifying examiners who meet the program’s standards.
- Increase public understanding and acceptance of driver licensing professionals as essential personnel in combating fraud.
- Achieve uniformity in training and driver licensing examination practices in accredited jurisdictions.

Benefits to a participating jurisdiction:

- Recognition of a standardized training program that meets internationally established practices and could assist in reducing jurisdictional examiner liability.
- Encouraging examining personnel to increase their knowledge and competence.
- Provides a tool for professional development; requiring examiner to successfully complete and pass additional training qualifications.
- Protecting public interest by providing consistent examiner training.
- Providing support in fraud reduction.
- Endorsing the concept of examiners as highway safety experts.
- Recognition of examining personnel as professionals in their field.
- Increasing operational efficiency through the use of better trained examiners.

Accreditation and Certification of a Program

- As outlined in the International Driver Examiner Certification (IDEC) Program Manual, a jurisdiction may be accredited by the Board to administer training, conduct examinations and recommend applicants for certification designations.
- An examiner may be certified after successfully completing the program requirements and being recommended by the accredited jurisdiction.
- Failure to comply with or satisfy any provisions of the program requirements may result in the withdrawal of a jurisdiction’s accreditation.
- Failure to comply with the established Code of Ethics may result in loss of individual examiner certification.
- Reinstatement of a jurisdictions accreditation is subject to satisfactory review and approval of the program by the IDEC Board.
- Reinstatement of an individual certification is placed with the accredited jurisdiction but subject to review by the IDEC Board.
To apply for accreditation, the jurisdiction must complete the enclosed forms and provide documentation that supports the driver examiner training program.

Please include all details about the training program and refresher training conducted. This information is necessary for the IDEC Board to determine whether a jurisdiction's training program meets the requirements and will become accredited. All decisions are made by the IDEC Board.

PROCEDURES FOR (CDE) EXAMINER
CERTIFICATION AND APPLICATION FORM
PROCEDURES FOR EXAMINER CERTIFICATION

Each Examiner will be required to complete the following five steps:

(1) Training - Each applicant must successfully complete their jurisdictions accredited training program as a driver examiner.

a. This requirement limits applications strictly to driver examiners who are authorized to conduct skills/road tests for the licensing of drivers.

b. Examiners are not eligible for certification until they successfully complete the forty hours of instruction of an accredited training program.

(2) Examination - Each applicant must pass the end of course certification examination.

a. A copy of the certification examination and answer sheet will be provided to the jurisdiction’s contact person upon approval of the accreditation application. It will be necessary to make sufficient copies of the examination and provide one for each applicant. Please keep copies of the examinations in a secure location.

b. You may utilize other personnel, such as supervisors, to assist in conducting the examinations as you see fit. Protect the integrity of the examination at all times. Provide copies only to applicants taking the examination and collect them upon completion.

c. Applicants should not be allowed the use of reference material during the end of course examination.

d. Use of the answer sheet must be strictly limited to scoring examinations. Do not provide copies to anyone. A passing score of 80% is required for IDEC Certification (you must answer forty (40) out of fifty (50) questions correctly) to successfully complete the examination.

e. It is permissible to review incorrect answers with an applicant. Do not allow the applicant to retain a copy of the examination.

f. Applicants that do not pass the examination should be advised to go back and study the training materials and information to prepare for re-examination. A second disqualification on the certification examination is considered indicative of a training problem and one that must be assessed. Further examination would not be allowed until you indicate such training has been conducted and the applicant is better prepared.
(3) Application - After having attained a passing score on the examination, each certification applicant must complete an individual application form.

   a. Enclosed is a copy of the application form. It will be necessary to produce sufficient copies to provide one to each applicant.

   b. Please review applications before submission. Make sure names are legibly printed or typed and the application is completed in full.

   c. Enter the name of your jurisdiction and the applicants' examination score, the person designated by your jurisdiction, as responsible for approving applications in the space provided.

   d. Follow the processing instructions on the application form. If the jurisdiction is paying the application fees, a single payment is acceptable to cover all applications being submitted.

(4) Awards - Approved applicants will be issued a certificate.

   a. Certificates will be mailed to your jurisdiction's motor vehicle administrator for signature and presentation. Please allow 30 days for delivery.

   b. Award certificates will have an expiration date. Certification requires renewal within four years. Renewal will be based upon meeting in-service training programs/re-fresher training requirements. Motor vehicle administrators will be notified of the renewal procedure prior to expiration. Examiners must at a minimum, conduct 10 skills/road tests per year to be eligible for renewal.

   c. Optional items are available (pins & patches) for purchase by certified driver examiners.

   d. All active certified examiners are eligible for nomination of the IDEC Jurisdictional Examiner of the Year Award and the International IDEC Outstanding Examiner of the Year Award.
