AAMVA Thanks Delaware Commissioner for Service

Arlington, VA – During its 81st Annual International Conference in Dover, Delaware, the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (AAMVA) congratulated Jennifer Cohan, outgoing chair of its International Board of Directors, for her dedication and service during the past year. In her home state, Cohan serves as the Director of the Delaware Division of Motor Vehicles. During her tenure as AAMVA Chair, Cohan's accomplishments included leading the search for a new President and CEO and the drafting of a new 3-year strategic plan.

"AAMVA has been very well served by Jennifer's leadership over the past year. We have all benefited from her guidance and support," said Anne Ferro, President & CEO of AAMVA. "She tackled a number of challenges with great energy and she will be leaving more prepared to succeed in the future."

Cohan's top priority as Chair was to have AAMVA provide its members with greater leadership development tools. As a result, AAMVA will launch a new Leadership Academy to provide up-and-coming leaders with an intense training opportunity focused on the unique characteristics of leading and managing a motor vehicle or law enforcement agency. It is designed for employees who demonstrate leadership potential and the ability to succeed in positions of greater responsibility within their agencies.

Cohan has held an array of leadership positions within the Delaware Department of Transportation in the areas of Planning, Finance and Motor Carrier Safety. In addition to her career in public service, Cohan is an adjunct professor at Wilmington University and President of the Greater Dover Boys and Girls Club board of directors.

Founded in 1933, AAMVA actively promotes traffic safety and uniformity among North American jurisdictions. Representing chief motor vehicle administrators and law enforcement officials, the association develops uniform programs in driver licensing, vehicle titling/registration and motor carrier services, among others.
