Newly Published! Salvage and Junk Vehicle Best Practice

This best practice was developed to help jurisdictions consistently and uniformly brand vehicles that may pose a safety risk to the motoring public, thus achieving a comprehensive vehicle history and ultimately improving consumer protection and public safety.

Furthermore, the definitions and recommendations should be applied to all vehicles whether insured, uninsured, or self-insured. This is necessary to achieve the highest degree of cohesion among jurisdictions and provide the best possible consumer protection.

It is important to note that this best practice was developed to be adopted as a whole, not in part. Adopting individual recommendations may have unintended consequences and prior to doing so should be carefully analyzed.
